

KELLAR SHOWS THEM HOW.

The new convert to theosophy, Mme. Ann O'Della Diss Debar, filled a box at Dockstader's Theatre last night and seemed to be much pleased with the "exposé of Spiritualism" made by Kellar, the magician, and his assistants, Mr. and Mrs. Steen. Mrs. Steen, who is a large woman with a small voice, went through her usual performance in mind reading—and it is really a clever piece of work—and Mr. Steen talked loud and long in explaining that the whole thing was a trick, incidentally offering considerable sums of money if any Spiritualist in the world would accomplish what he did by occult means.

Prof. Kellar then had himself tied up securely in his cabinet, borrowed Buffalo Bill's coat—that gentleman was one of the "committee" on the stage—and mystified his audience by the manner in which he made things howl behind the closed doors of his little box. He very considerably explained one or two of his tricks, and the people finally went home, thoroughly satisfied that if they had not exactly witnessed an exposé of Spiritualism they had at least spent a very pleasant evening.

The New York Times

Published: March 11, 1889

Copyright © The New York Times